FOREWARD

This HVAC&R PRODUCT DIRECTORY of manufacturers and their representatives has been prepared by your ASHRAE Chapter with RepGuide as a service to all members of the industry. The directory is intended to foster better communication between manufacturers, representatives, distributors, wholesalers, engineers, contractors, and other interested parties within the HVAC&R industry. The directory listings are not limited to ASHRAE members and the listings are not to be considered an advertisement or endorsement by ASHRAE.

Thank you to all who made this directory possible through your support.

If you or someone else would like to join the directory next year, please submit your information to our directory partner at:

Description

MegaPress

Ideal for facility utility needs, the Viega MegaPress system is easy to use, flameless, and reliable. Most often used for fire sprinklers, natural gas, hydronics, and compressed air, MegaPress leaves no joining material buildup, exposed threads, or tarnish, creating a clean, professional appearance

MegaPress Stainless

Designed for Iron Pipe Size (IPS) stainless steel, Viega MegaPress stainless steel (304/316) press fittings support more applications than ever before. From potable water to acid and cleaning agents, Viega MegaPress stainless steel stands up to the toughest jobs while keeping its appearance clean.

ProPress

Viega ProPress® is the proven solution for nearly any industrial, commercial or residential project. With choices in sealing elements, system-matched tools, rings and jaws, press connections are made in seconds, making Viega ProPress suitable for many standard applications.

ProPress Stainless

Designed for Copper Tube Size (CTS), Viega ProPress 316 stainless steel is engineered for harsh industrial environments where the piping systems may come into contact with corrosive cleaning liquids. Viega ProPress 316 stainless steel is a great option for water, air, acidic, and cleaning solution applications while being light and easy to work with.

ProRadiant

Viega provides a versatile lineup of hydronic radiant and snow melt systems for new construction and retrofit in commercial and residential buildings. Besides products like PEX tubing, manifolds, controls Viega's offers design support and training on design and installation of radiant heating / cooling and snow melt system.

PureFlow PEX

PureFlow is the only system in the industry that offers press-to-press transition fittings – allowing you to easily transition from PureFlow PEX to ProPress in traditional branch and tee installations. Looking to reduce the number of fittings behind the wall? PureFlow lets you install remote manifolds giving each fixture in a building its own PEX tubing line
